Richmond Society

Special Correspondence of The Star.

RICHMOND, September 28, 1907.

Richmond society is looking forward to a busy month during October, when the state fair, the horse show and the Episcopal convention will bring crowds of visitors to the city. Horse show box parties are already being arranged for, and among the pretty young girls who will entertain their friends and be themselves entertained are Miss Alice Doyle, Miss Frances Myers, Miss Martha Robinson, Miss Warfield Crenshaw, Miss Greta McGuire, Miss Elizabeth Davenport, Miss Alice Hotchkiss, Miss Caroline Remick, Miss Emma Gray White, Miss Mary Saunders, Miss Maude Morgan, Miss Nora Langhorne, Miss Lina and Miss Hattie Shields, Misses Boyd, Miss Helen Stevens and Misses Parrish.

Miss Edith Forsyth of New Orleans, who has a delightful summer home in Albany, N. Y., and whose engagement to Mr. William H. Langhorne has been recently announced, will spend horse show week with Misses Doyle, Parrish, and Forsyth. She will also be at the Episcopal convention, which will be held at the city of Washington, the host of the occasion, Bishop Potter will be at No. 600 West Franklin street and Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan at No. 112 East George street. Bishop Gibson will give a reception to the visiting bishops and their families in his home on Tuesday, October 1, and a reception to convention guests will be held at Woman's Club Tuesday, October 15. Innumerable dinners, luncheons and receptions are being arranged for in private homes, and several delightful trips to Williamsburg, Jamestown Island and other places of historic interest are projected.

Mr. George W. Carrington of this city has issued invitations for the wedding of his daughter Eleanor to Mr. Robert Rives Hancock, the wedding to be celebrated on the evening of October 2, at the home of the bride, 392 South 4th street. A reception will follow the ceremony.

Miss Helen Christian, a leading society belle of West Franklin street, who spent the summer in the Adirondacks and has recently returned home, will have as her horse-show visitors Mr. and Mrs. Huntington Wilson of Washington, D. C. Mrs. Wilson formerly spent some time in Richmond as Miss James. She and Miss Christian traveled together extensively.

The usual array of charming Virginia girls are ready to enjoy the pleasant festivities to be tendered sponsors and maids of honor at the Confederate reunion that will be held the latter half of October at Norfolk, Va. The organization of the Sons of Veterans will be represented in the state by Miss Bessie E. Morton of Clover, Va.; Miss Matilda W. Powell of Espersia, Va.; Miss Margaret N. Old of Norfolk; Miss Ella Holston of Norfolk; Miss Nell Jordan of Suffolk; Miss Nancy S. Jones of Petersburg; Miss Helen H. Jones of Petersburg; Miss Belle Field of Chatham; Miss Bessie Watson of Danville; Miss Rose Douglas of Aldie; Miss Miss Pearl Osborne of Bluemont; Miss Margaret Watson and Grace Morrison of Pulaski, Va.

Bishop Codman of Portland, Me., will arrive in Richmond Monday and spend some time with Mr. and Mrs. Andrew H. Christian, on West George street.

Mr. and Mrs. Egbert Leigh, who spent August and early September at Narragansett Pier, where Mrs. Leigh chaperoned Miss Sadie Sutton of Richmond, are now at their pretty country home in Orange county and are having a series of week-end parties which their Richmond friends are enjoying very much. Mr. and Mrs. Leigh will run down to the city for horse show week, but they will not open their home here until November.

Miss Ellen Glasgow, who remained at Greenbrier White Sulphur Springs until September, and then visited her friends, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Parrish, at Covington, Va., is enjoying the resort and the activity of Richmond, filled with tourists and guests, and will entertain both during the horse show and the Episcopal convention.

Apologies of Mrs. Arthur Glasgow's expected visit to her father in Richmond is a pretty story told with her little daughter, Margaret for a heroine. King Edward of England met the little lady at Marienbad, in Germany, and being won by her little captivating ways, he gave her a sovereign, and asked her to keep it always because it bore the impress of his likeness. Needless to say, the sovereign is now one of Margaret's cherished possessions.

WINCHESTER, Va., September 28, 1907.

One of the most notable entertainments of the week was given Thursday night at Montana Hall, the magnificent country home in Clarke county of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Conrad of Great Falls, Mont., who went west near Virginia years ago, but who spend much of their time in Clarke. Their daughters, Misses Minnie and Evelyn Conrad, were the hostesses at a dance which was unique, in that it was held in the barn on the Montana Hall estate. A floor had been laid and waxed, and the place was brilliantly illuminated, while from the rafters were suspended such favors as silk parasols, fans and many other souvenirs. A large number of people from Winchester, Berryville, Millwood, Boyce and vicinity were in attendance, and the festivities continued until early yesterday morning. The Misses Pilon of Washington are members of the horse party, for whom the dance was given.

Mrs. Richard Evelyn Byrd entertained a bridge party a few days ago in honor of her guest, Mrs. William H. Langhorne, who, Tenn., who is to be the matron of honor at the marriage of her sister, Miss Sally Faulkner, to Mr. Stephen Snodgrass at Boydville, near Martinsburg, W. Va., October 22. Mrs. Byrd also gave a delightful party to some young people in honor of Misses Eleanor and Ann Faulkner, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John Faulkner of Winchester. Refreshments were served during the afternoon.

In St. Stephen's Roman Catholic Church, at Harpers Ferry, W. Va., Wednesday morning, in the presence of a large company of guests, the marriage of Miss Margaret O'Brien, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien, was celebrated by the Rev. Father Collins, officiating at a nuptial mass. Miss Walsh of Harpers Ferry attended the bride, and Mr. John Keating of Cumberland, Md., brother of the groom, was best man. A wedding breakfast followed the ceremony, and later in the day Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien left for a northern tour. They will reside in Winchester.

Miss Sybil Hilda Shaver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Shaver of Mauretown, and Mr. Charles L. James, a prominent young business man of Woodstock, Va., were married in the Progressive Brethren Church at Mauretown, Wednesday, by the bride's grandfather, Elder E. B. Shaver. Miss Irene Viola Corp of Fishers Hill was maid of honor, and Mr. J. R. Miller of Woodstock was best man. The bride was in white silk with veil and carried a large bouquet of white roses. The ceremony was of exceptional beauty and very popular.

Miss Katharine Knott, daughter of the late Mr. William J. Knott of Jefferson county, Va., and Mr. J. Frank Turner of Charles Town, Va., were married this week at the home of the bride, Mrs. John Keating of Cumberland, Md., brother of the groom, was best man. A wedding breakfast followed the ceremony, and later in the day Mr. and Mrs. Knott left for a northern tour. They will reside in Winchester.

Mr. William H. Beck of Milton, Pa., has issued invitations for the marriage of his daughter, Miss Lottie Beck, to Walter Nail of Winchester, the marriage to take place Wednesday afternoon, October 16, at the home of the bride's father. After a wedding trip the young couple will live in this city, where Mr. Nail is engaged in business.

Invitations have been
